Tips for Language Arts Section

This section on the GED exam is also known as the reasoning through language arts subject test. It is meant to test high school level skills in reading and reasoning.

You will have 2.5 hours to answer 46 questions on this subject.

It will test your ability to answer questions about short passages about many different subjects.

This part will also test your ability to use English grammar correctly by correcting sentences for punctuation, structure, and capitalization. Also, it will be expected from you to select the correct answers based on word choice, use, and informal language.

You will also be expected to complete an extended response essay. Keep in mind that you'll have 45 minutes to read a text, make an argument, and provide supporting explanations from the text.
